THE HOWLING TONGUES

A three-piece rock cannon, sent from outer space to sexify your eardrums.

We like to rock and love to see you roll. Blowing up stages and dominating faces all the way up and down the coast, the 'Tongues are leaving some serious sonic footprints in their wake. We are a hard-rocking, hard-funkin, diverse band with some seriously powerful original tunes. Ready to rock out with our proverbial male chickens out at any pub, club, function, party, band night, support slot, or headline show. We have amassed a following from our debut EP titled "Z", and we are constantly touring to promote our music, not to mention keeping the heads banging and toes tapping all over the country. We might sound like other stuff. We are who we are, we sound how we sound. So come out and make some noise with us..
